MEMORANDUM TO: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director of Public Affairs

SUBJECT: Invitation to Address South Shore Chamber of Commerce

1. Action Requested: Accept or decline an invitation to address the South Shore Chamber of Commerce meeting in their Board room at 36 Miller Stile Road, Quincy, Massachusetts, on 28 November.

2. Background: Mr. Richard C. Pierce, Government Affairs Manager for the South Shore Chamber of Commerce, invited you to be their guest speaker at either an off-the-record breakfast with their Board of Directors or a luncheon meeting. The suggested format is 20 minutes of remarks and 20 minutes of Questions and Answers. You could expect an audience of 30 - 40 CEO's from major businesses as General Dynamics, Fox Boro Company, and the area's leading banks. Neither the press nor foreign nationals would be present.

The South Shore Chamber of Commerce, headquartered in Quincy, Massachusetts, is the largest suburban Chamber in the country with over 1600 members from Boston to Cape Cod. Since its primary mission is to promote economic development in the South Shore Massachusetts area, the usual format is a luncheon of 500 members with full-scale media coverage. Given the nature of the Agency, the smaller, off-the-record format was suggested for your visit with them. According to the Chamber, both President Reagan and Vice President Bush spoke to the group during the 1980 campaign and drew record crowds. More recently, NASA Chief James Beggs, Post Master General William F. Bolger, and Elliot Richardson have spoken to them. Commissioner of IRS Roscoe Egger will be their guest speaker on 30 November. (See attachment opposite for further information.)

3. Recommendation: Although the original invitation was to the DCI, the Club is interested in having you speak to them. Since you will be in the Boston Area to give a dinner address to the Council on Foreign Relations on this date, the DCI deferred to you. You may wish to take care of two engagements in one trip.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director of Public Affairs

SUBJECT: Invitation to Address the South Shore Chamber of Commerce

1. Action Requested: Accept or decline an invitation to address the South Shore Chamber of Commerce at the Lantana Restaurant in Randolph, 10 miles from Quincy, Massachusetts, at a "7:44 Breakfast Meeting" sometime in the fall or winter.

2. Background: Mr. Richard C. Pierce, Government Affairs Manager for the South Shore Chamber of Commerce, invited you to be their guest speaker at one of their "7:44 Breakfast Meetings." Breakfast begins at 7:44 a.m. with a presentation from 8:15 to 9:00. You could expect an audience of approximately 400 - 500 leading businessmen and members of the press. The South Shore Chamber of Commerce is the largest suburban Chamber in the country with over 1600 members from Boston to Cape Cod, headquartered in Quincy, Massachusetts. According to the Chamber, both President Reagan and Vice President Bush spoke to the group during the 1980 campaign and drew record crowds. More recently, NASA Chief James Beggs, Post Master General William F. Bolger, and Elliot Richardson have spoken to them. (See attachment opposite for further information).

3. Recommendation: I recommend that you decline. Mr. Pierce said that if you cannot attend he would be delighted to have the DDCI instead. Since John will be in Boston addressing the Boston Committee on Foreign Relations, 28 November, I suggest you defer to him.

William J. Casey
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Director Casey:

On behalf of the South Shore Chamber of Commerce, I am cordially inviting you to be our guest speaker at a "7:44 Breakfast Meeting," in the fall or winter.

For your information, the South Shore Chamber is the largest suburban Chamber in the country with over 1600 members from Boston to Cape Cod. Our office is located in Quincy, Ma., home of two United States Presidents.

The 7:44 Breakfast Meeting begins with breakfast served at 7:44 am. From 8:15 to 9:00, we present our speaker. Our breakfasts usually attract 400-500 members. President Regan and Vice President Bush both drew capacity audiences. The facility we use is only 30 minutes south of Boston's Logan Airport. The Meeting date is flexible, according to the speaker's schedule.

I look forward to hearing from your office to arrange your appearance.

Sincerely,

Richard C. Pierce

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director of Public Affairs

SUBJECT: Invitation to Address the World Affairs Council of Boston

1. Action Requested: Accept or decline an invitation to address the Boston World Affairs Council in Boston preferably in February or March.

2. Background: Lt. General Robert L. Nichols USMC (Ret.), Executive Director of the World Affairs Council, has invited you to speak before this group sometime this winter. If you are interested, there are three possible formats:

a. Executive Breakfast 8:00 - 9:15 a.m.:

The executive breakfast would be an informal off-the-record meeting of 30 to 40 senior CEO's of major corporations. The attendees would include presidents of the principal Boston banks, CEO's from Wang, Digital Equipment, Raytheon, Houghton-Mifflin, and other high-tech companies.

b. Luncheon Meeting 11:30 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.:

The luncheon meeting would be covered by the media and draw from the general membership of the organization. Foreign nationals could be present. A broad spectrum of Boston professional, community and business leaders, academics and concerned citizens would be in the audience of 150 - 200. The suggested format is a reception, followed by lunch and speech with 30 minutes for remarks and 30 minutes of Questions and Answers.

c. Dinner Meeting 6:30 - 9:30 p.m.:

The dinner would be an off-the-record meeting that draws from the Ambassador's Council, a subgroup of the World Affairs Council. Former U.S. Ambassadors, and the affluent "Beacon Hillers" would make up a more conservative husband-and-wife audience of approximately 125 that is oriented toward the administration. Foreign nationals could attend. The media would not be present except for Edward O. Foell, Editor-in-Chief of the CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR, and William J. Taylor, Publisher of the BOSTON GLOBE. The suggested format is speech at 6:30 p.m. with 30 minutes for remarks and 30 minutes of Questions and Answers; reception 7:30 - 8:15 p.m.; dinner 8:15 - 9:15 p.m. followed by an additional informal Question-and-Answer session.

The World Affairs Council of Boston with a membership of 2000 people and 115 corporations is a non-profit, public education organization devoted to the development of public understanding of international affairs. Foreign nationals also have membership in the organization. Chairman of the Board is former Chairman of Raytheon Charles Frances Adams and the President is George Rabstjnik, CEO of Harbridge House. (See opposite for list of the Board of Directors of the Council.) Recent speakers have included Jeane Kirkpatrick, George Shultz, Zbigniew Brzezinski, Caspar Weinberger, World Bank President Tom Clausen, and British Ambassador to the United Nations Sir John Thomson. During Caspar Weinberger's and Jeane Kirkpatrick's speeches to luncheon meetings of the Council, anti-war demonstrators protested administration policy in the street as well as in the hall.

3. Recommendation: I recommend you either choose the breakfast or decline because of the likely foreign national presence, media attention, and protester activity the other events may generate.

The Honorable William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

The World Affairs Council of Boston cordially invites you to address its members at a time convenient to your schedule during January 1985. We would consider it a great honor and a privilege to hear you.

The Council is a non-profit, public education organization devoted to the development of public understanding of international affairs. Recent speakers have included Jeane Kirkpatrick, George Shultz, Zbigniew Brzezinski, Sir John Thomson, Sol Linowitz and George Ball.

We could arrange for either a luncheon or dinner meeting, whichever you prefer. We can assure you of a diverse and influential audience, one which cuts across the spectrum of political affiliation and includes prominent leaders of the Boston business, professional and academic communities.

We look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience regarding this invitation, and sincerely hope for your favorable reply.

Yours truly,

Robert L. Nichols
Lt. General, USMC (Ret.)
Executive Director
